++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and mild with some sunshine in the north.

Today:
A dry and mild day for all. Much brighter than of late for northern areas as some decent sunny spells develop. However, generally staying rather cloudy across parts of the south. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
A southwest-northeast split overnight, with cloud across the former and clearer skies for the latter. Chilly under the clear skies, with a risk of fog patches and frost. Staying dry. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
Fog slowly clearing on Thursday morning before cloud spreads more widely across the region, with occasional bright spells in the afternoon. Largely dry but a touch less mild than lately. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely settled into the weekend, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells in the afternoon. Continued risk of fog and frost under overnight cloud breaks. Gradually turning colder.
